

PalmSource®

Conference and Expo

PalmSource®
Conference and Expo

Marketing Opportunities and the Palm OS® Brand

Gina Clark, VP Marketing, PalmSource, Inc.

Today's Agenda

- Brand Value
- Separated at Birth
- The Advantage Program
- Palm OS 5 Compatible Program
- Palm Powered Award

Brand Value

- Corporate Asset
  - $69 Billion (Coke),
  - $65 Billion (Microsoft)
  - $53 Billion (IBM)
  - $5 Billion (Apple)
- Competitive Advantage
  - Brand Promise
- Trademark Protection
  - Respect trademarks

Separated at Birth

Separated at Birth

The Beaver

Scott McNealy

Separated at Birth

The Master

Dr. Who

Dave Nagel

Separated at Birth

- Palm handhelds
  - Truly Useful
  - Simple
  - Elegant

- Palm OS
  - Ease of use
  - Flexible
  - Essential

Separated at Birth

- Subsidiary and Palm OS brand
- New subsidiary web site
  - Separate from Palm.com
  - Neutral ground for all licensees, partners and developers
- Marketing opportunities for developers
  - Compatibility marks
  - Marketing exposure
  - Networking, licensee exposure

Our Audience

Users
- Palm User Groups
- Community
- Devices and software

Company
- About
- Press

Enterprise
- Palm OS in Enterprise
- Security
- Devices and software

Information
- Palm OS
- Software
- Licensees
- Partners

Developers
- Developer Resources
- Palm OS Tools
- Training and Education

Comprehensive Resource

- Enterprise Software
- Systems Integrators
- VARs, Resellers

- Software Solutions
- Distribution
- Palm Powered Devices
- Positioning
- Competition

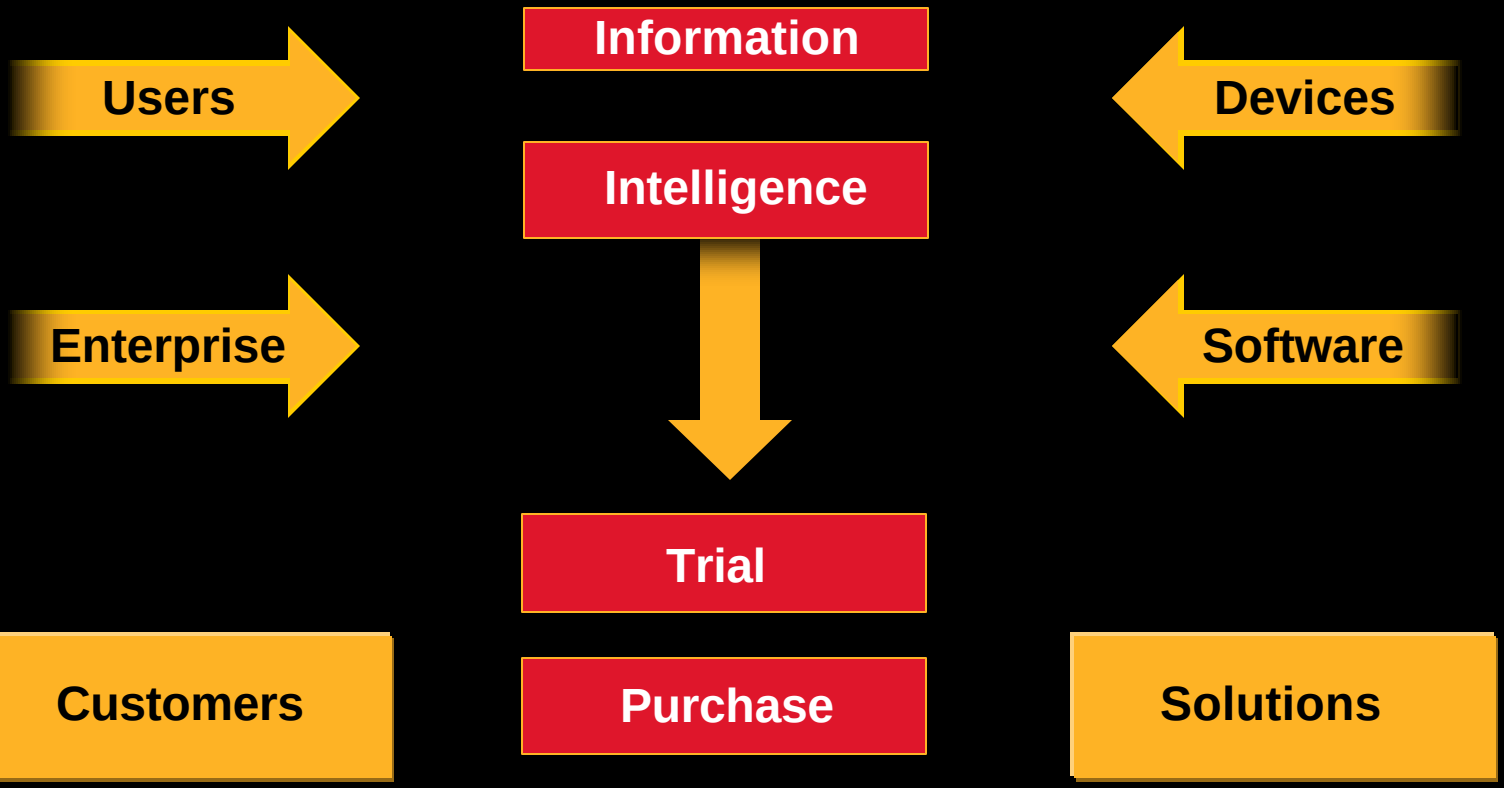

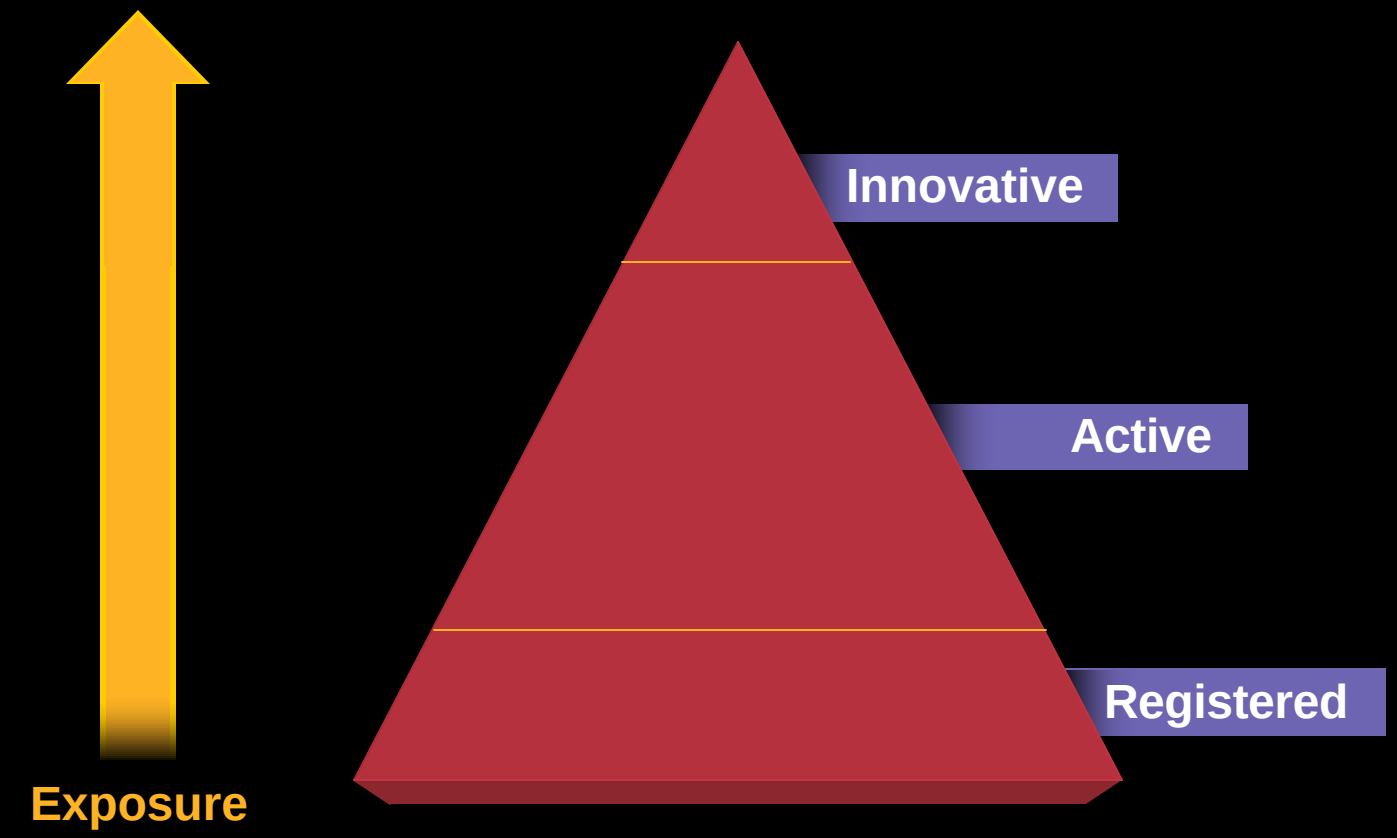

Driving Demand

Developers and Marketing

Marketing Exposure

Developer Advantage Program Next Phase

- Members receive priority in marketing exposure
  - Active developers
  - Committed developers
  - Innovative developers
- Public Relations
  - Success Stories
- Events
  - Invited to participate at low or no cost
- Co-marketing opportunities
  - PUGs
  - Channels
- Branding programs

Palm OS Compatibility Level I

- Available to all Palm OS registered developers:
  - Self test with in line text compatibility claim
  - Exposure on Palm OS subsidiary web site
  - No cost
  - More details coming in developer newsletter and on PalmOS.com—Spring 2002

Palm OS Compatibility Level II

- Available to Developer Advantage Members:
  - Backed by Palm OS Marketing Programs
  - Channel Awareness
  - User Awareness
  - Demand Generation
  - Networking and Exposure to Licensees
  - Marketing Support

Powered Up Award Program

- Recognizes Innovative Developers
- Provides Marketing Opportunities
- Categories
  - Best of the Best
  - Best Enterprise Solution
  - Best Productivity/Education Solution
  - Best Leisure and Entertainment Solution
  - Best Student Developer Solution

Powered Up Award Winners

- Best of the Best and Enterprise Solution
  - ActiveECG from Active Corp.
- Best of the Productivity/Education Solution
  - CopyWrite from Revelation Computing Pty Ltd.
- Best Leisure and Entertainment Solution
  - Handmark Scrabble from Handmark, Inc.
- Best Student Developer Solution
  - Ultimate Table Hockey by Bryant Lee

PalmSource®
Conference and Expo

Mobile Customers and Palm OS® Strategy

Michael Mace, CCO, Palm, Inc.

My New Year's Resolutions

- No More Denial!

1. UCLA's never going to win a national championship in football

2. My hair is thinner than it used to be

3. Palm OS is dead

Palm’s Death Has Been Foretold

- “The PalmPilot is one of the most successful

  That's why I'm predicting its failure… I predict PalmPilot will never again be as popular as it is today...Debut of the latest version of Windows CE today could mark the turning point where PalmPilot starts to lose its lead and momentum… By Christmas I see a shift beginning, with CE leading the charge. New devices will challenge Palm's dominance and Palm will be hard-pressed to put them off.”

  --ZD Net, June 1999

Another Milestone on the Road to Palm's Gory Demise

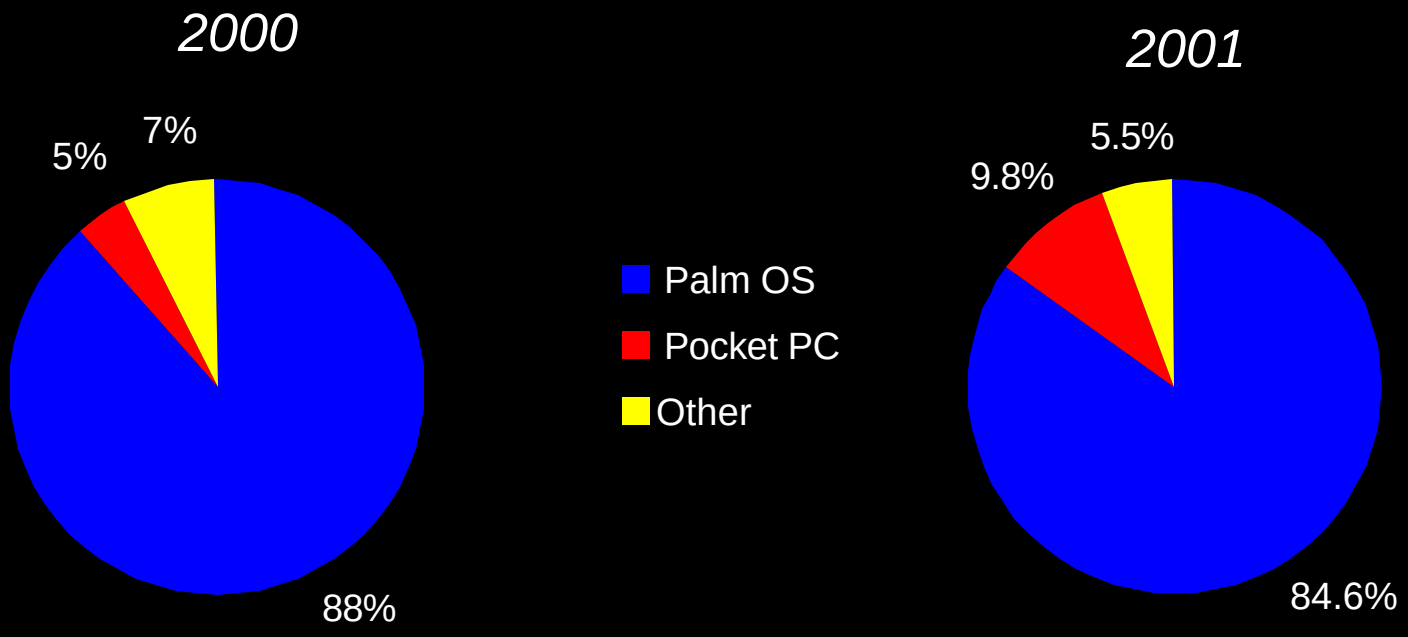

- "In some markets, such as France, Windows CE devices are outselling Palm three to one." --CNET

Handheld market share, France, fall 2001

Palm Already Died a While Ago

- “Microsoft Corp… said sales of hand-held computers using its Windows CE operating system are expected to equal those of 3Com Corp.'s PalmPilot (in 2000) and top them by 2001.” --Bloomberg News

Nostradamus

- C12 Q143

  "From the North a Great Smell Will Arise,

  Terror Reigns Among Scribes Who Move Professionally;

  Their Butts Will be Kicked by a Company from Santa Clara."

Why isn't Palm OS® dead?

Why Isn’t Palm OS Dead?

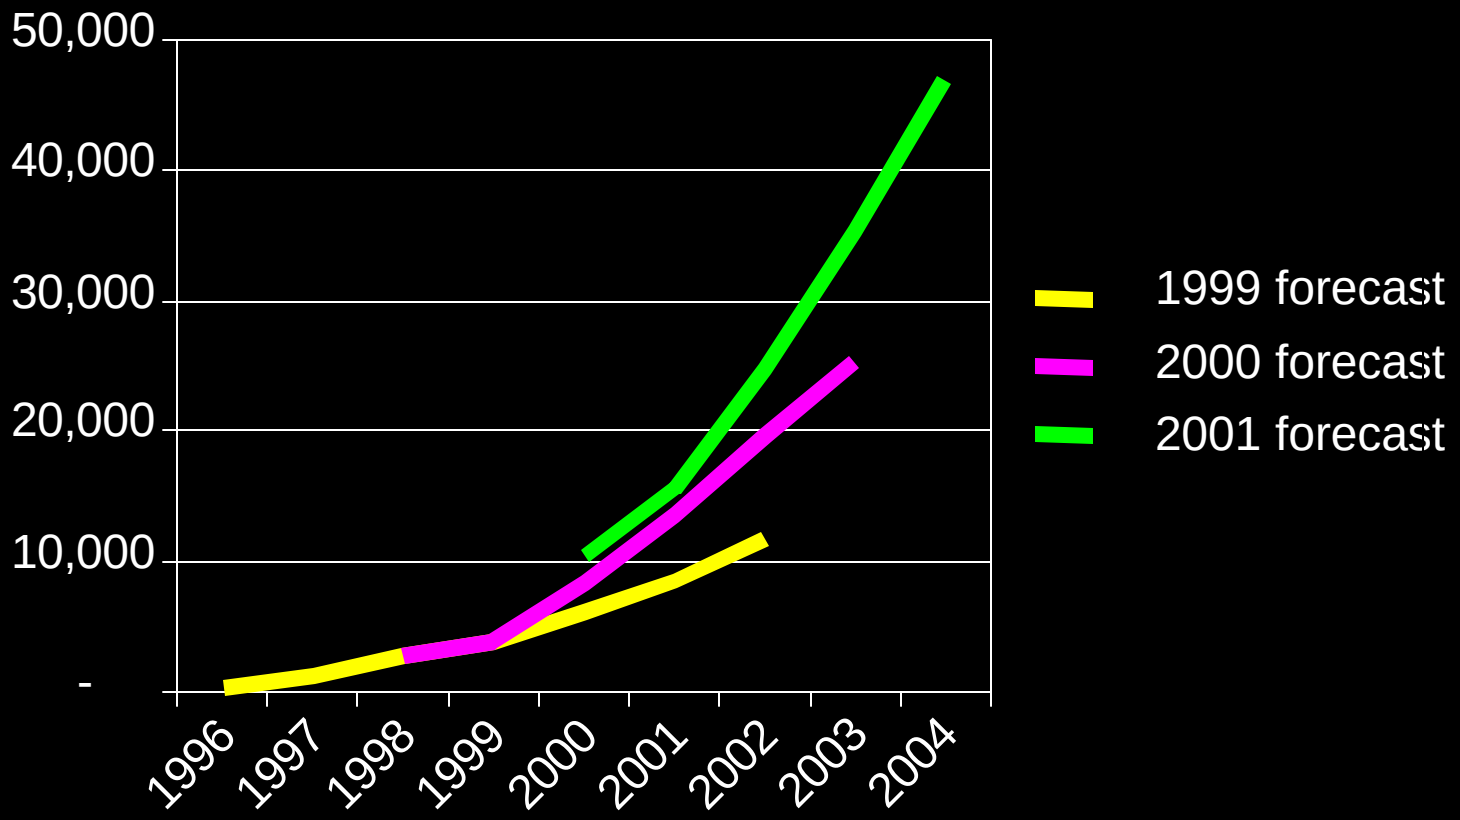

- 1. PalmSource, Inc. needs to market more and better

Why Isn’t Palm OS Dead?

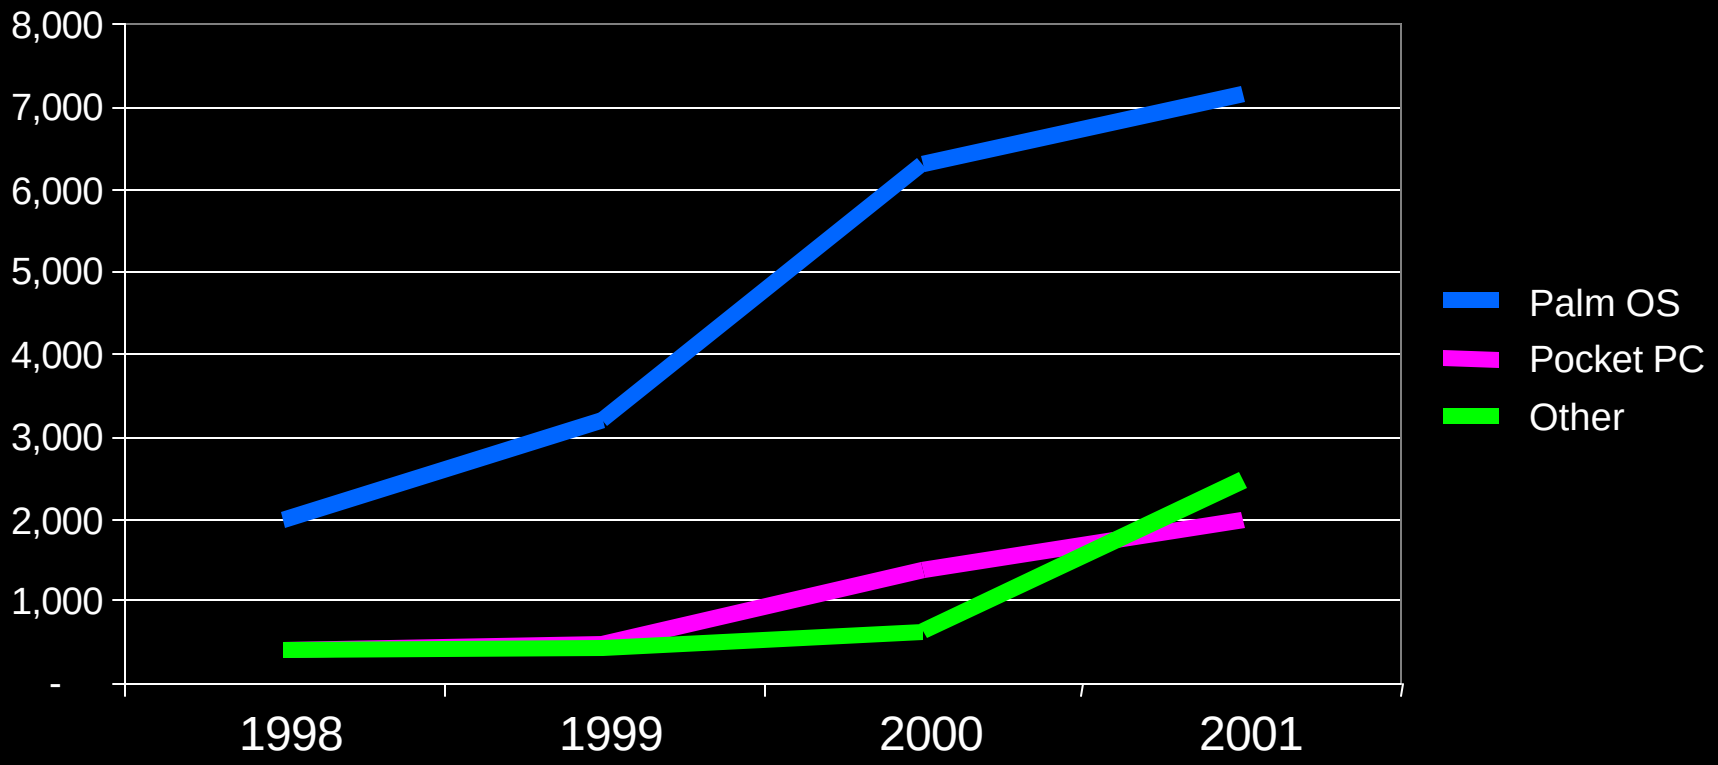

- 1. Palm Source Inc. needs to market more and better
- 2. Industry statistics have challenges

Industry Forecasts Evolve

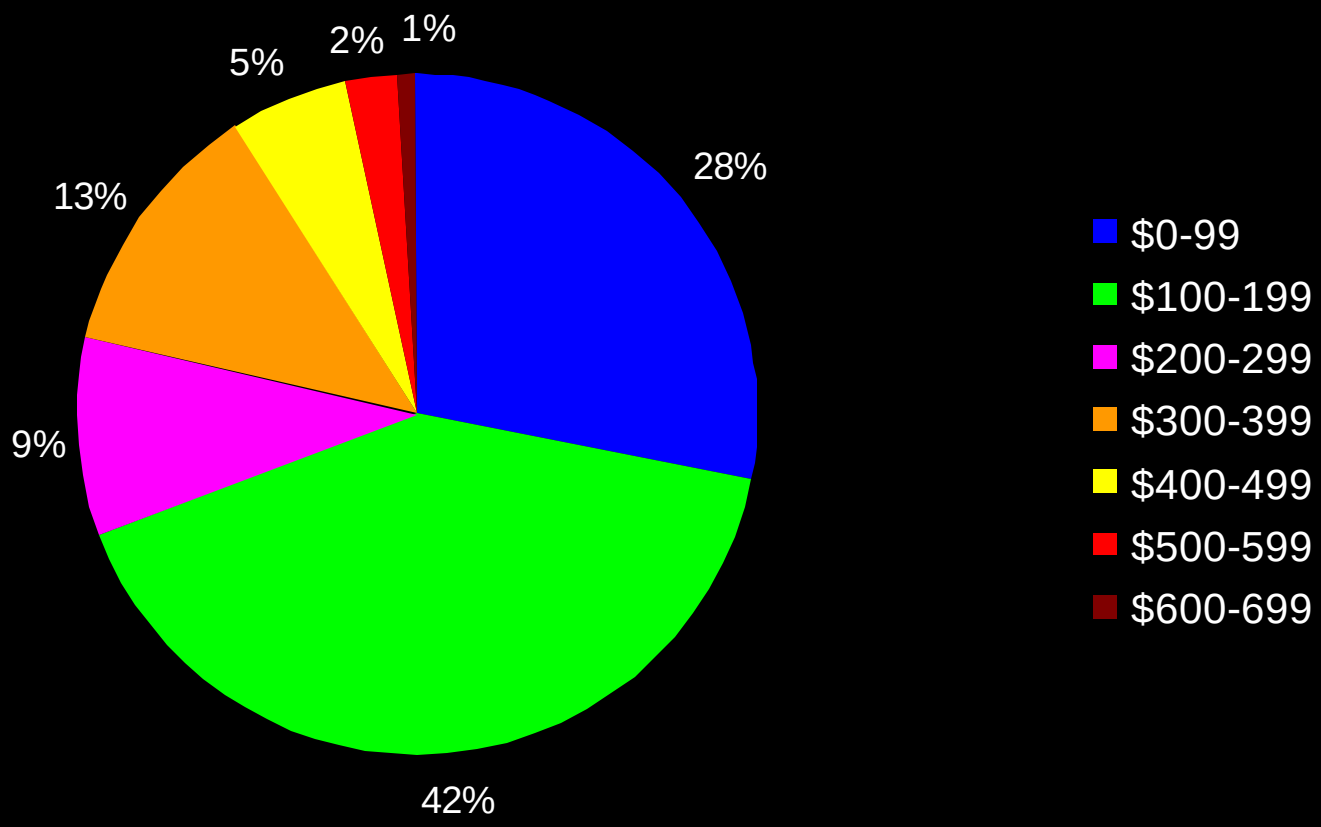

Market Statistics Have Hidden Stories

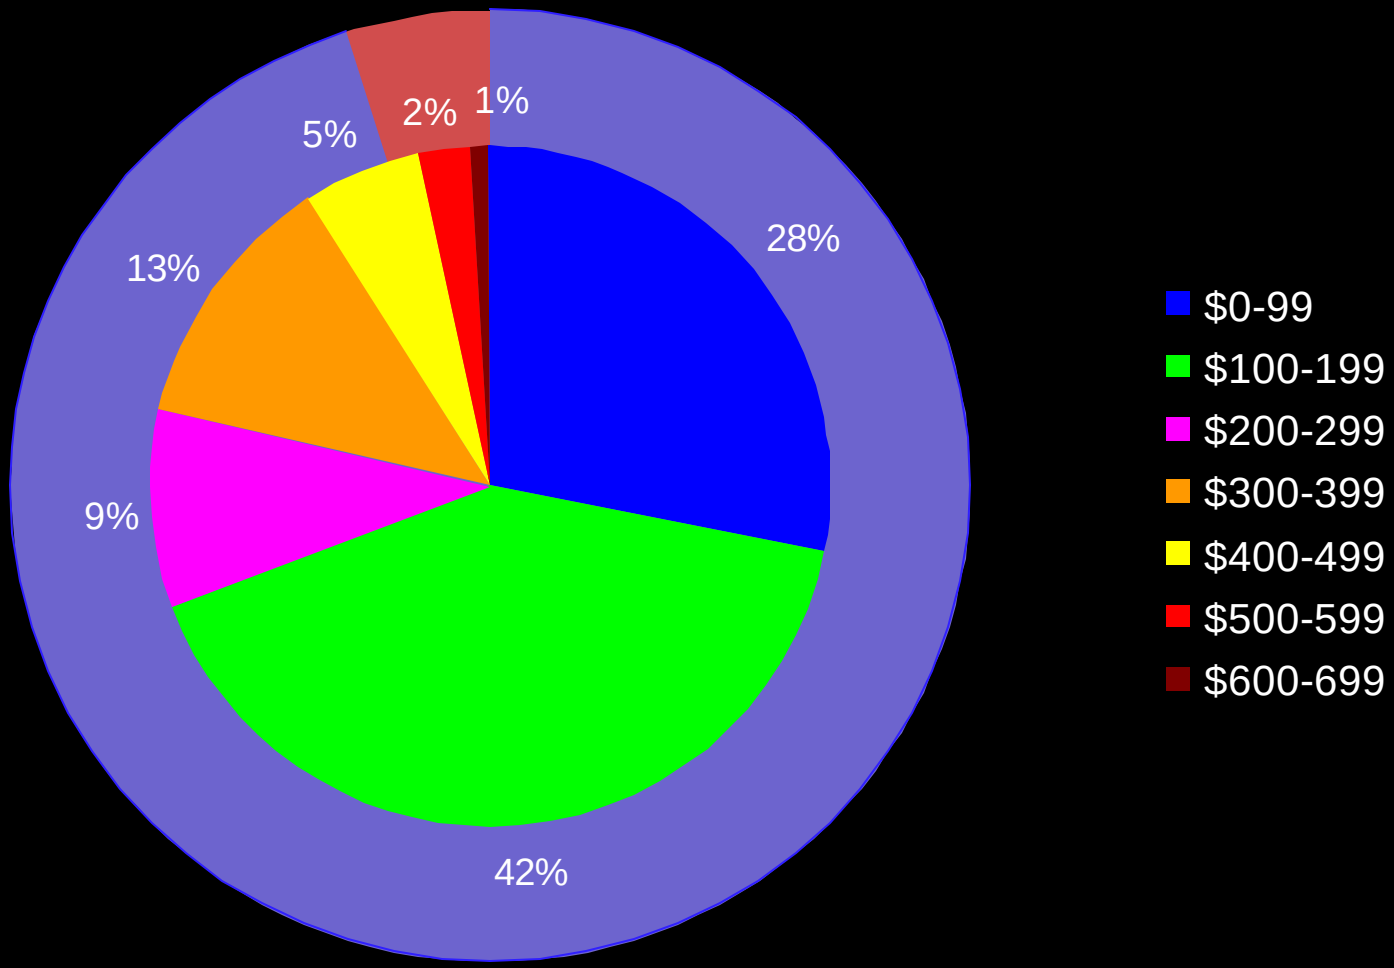

Worldwide Unit Sales by OS

Price Matters

Price Matters

Why Isn’t Palm OS Dead?

- 1. PalmSource, Inc. needs to market more and better
- 2. Industry statistics have challenges
- 3. Palm OS customers are morons?

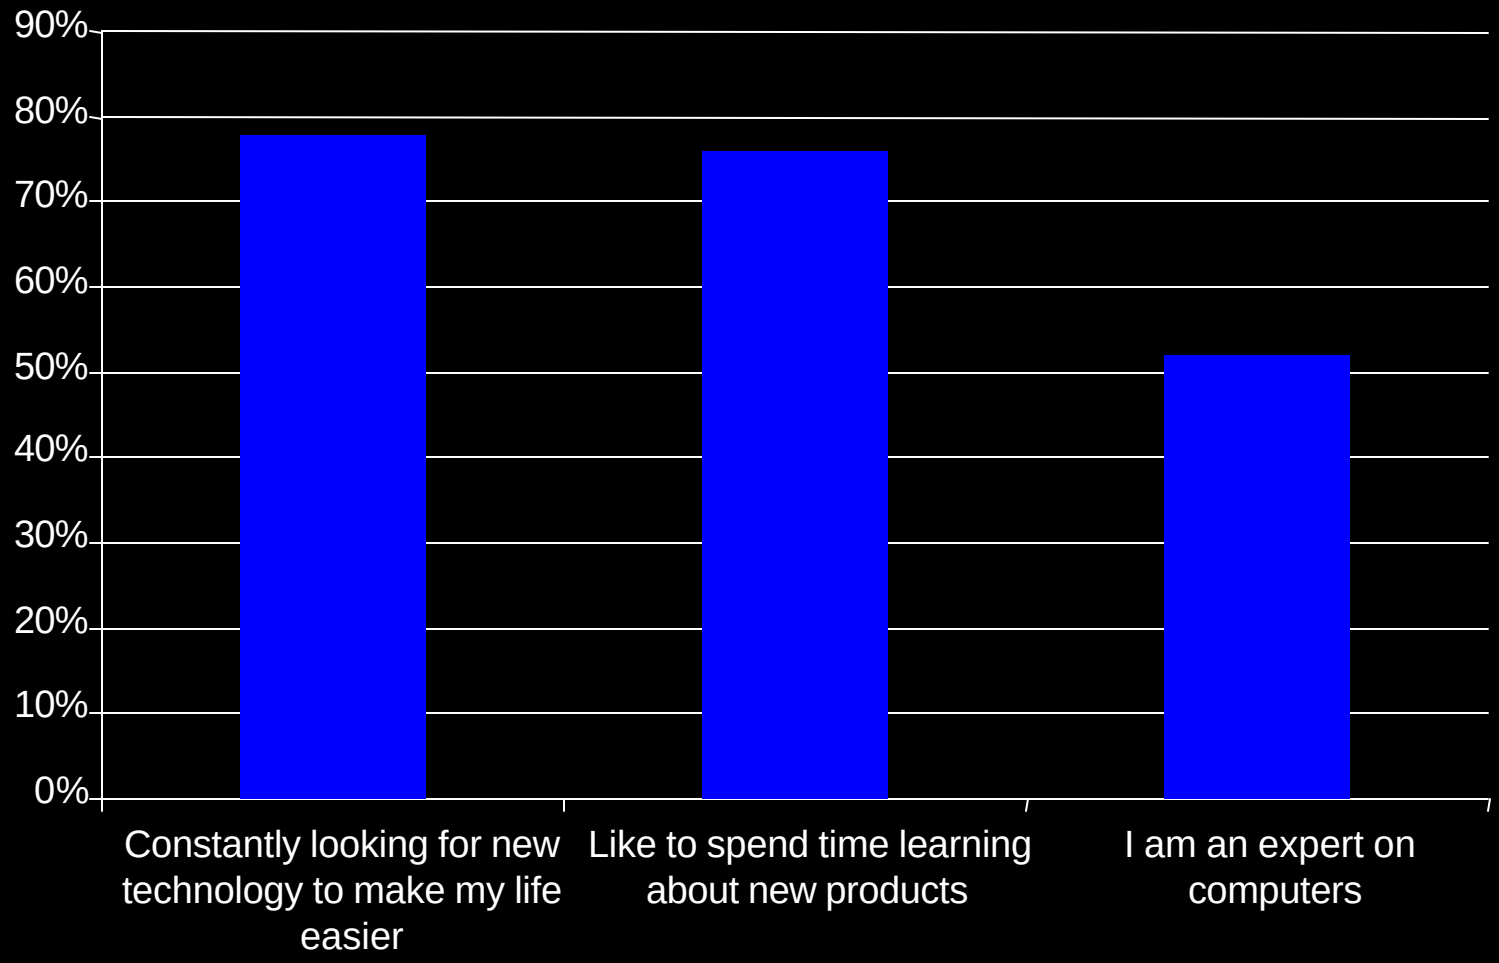

Palm OS Users

		Entry	High-end
% Male	64%	62%	83%
Mean Age	40.1
Married	66%
Employed	89%
Education (4-year degree +)	64%	58%	73%
Mean HH Income ($000)	$83K	$64.1	$96K

Source: Russell Research, November 2001

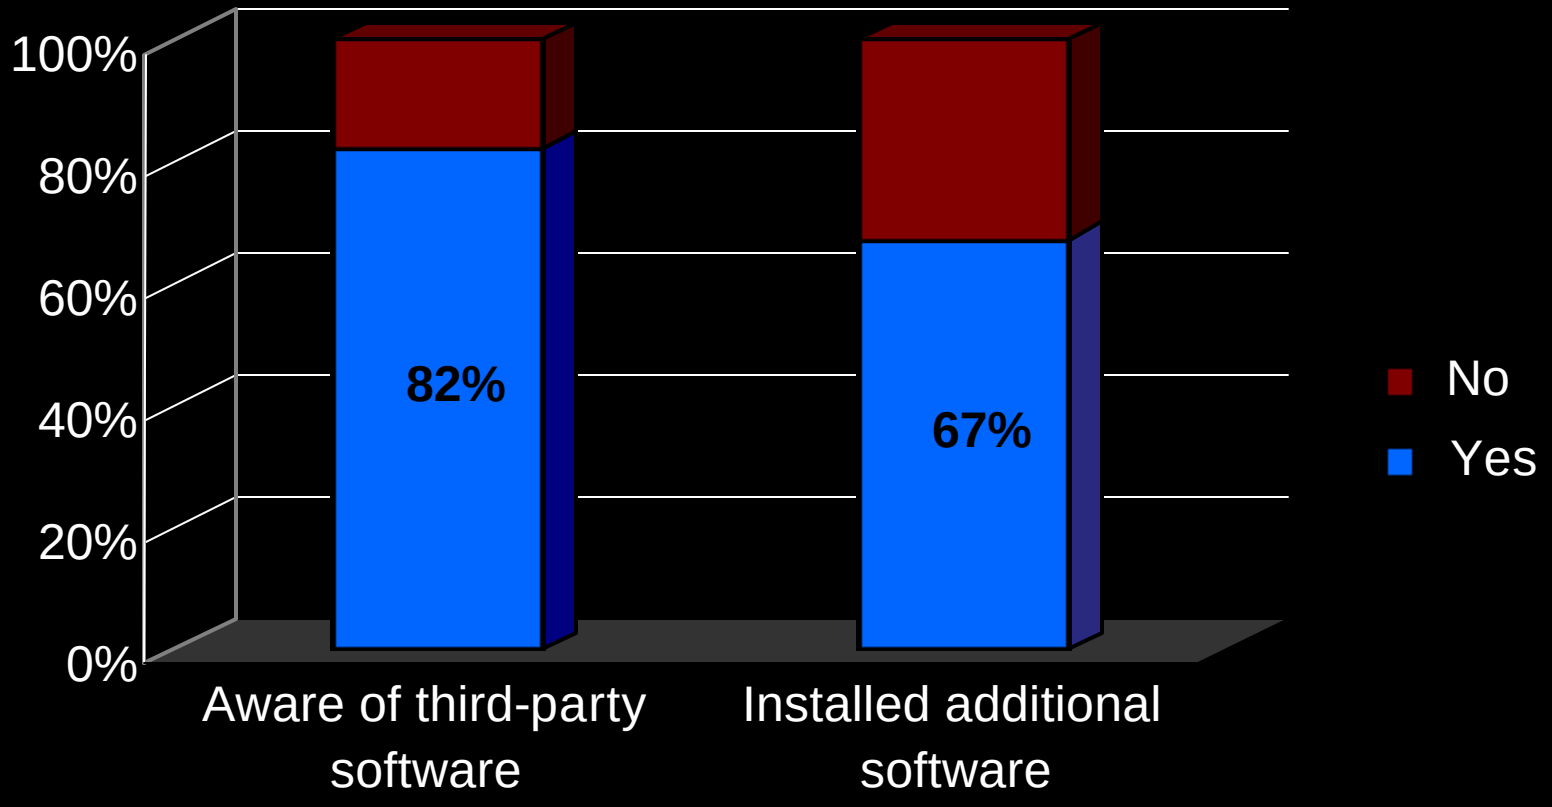

Attitudes Toward Technology

How Frequently Do You Carry Your Handheld?

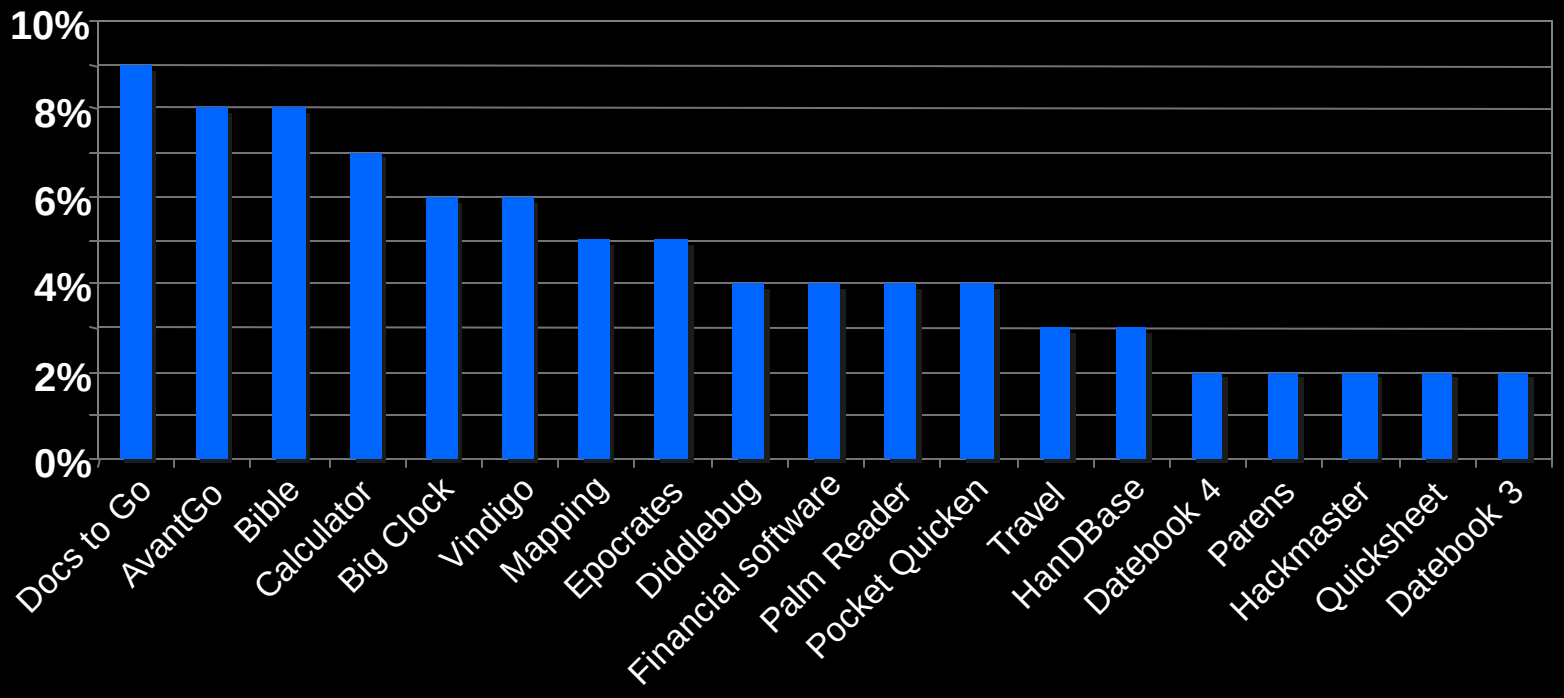

Use of Third-Party Software

Everybody Adds Something Different

- Every app is a killer app

"What additional software do you currently use?"

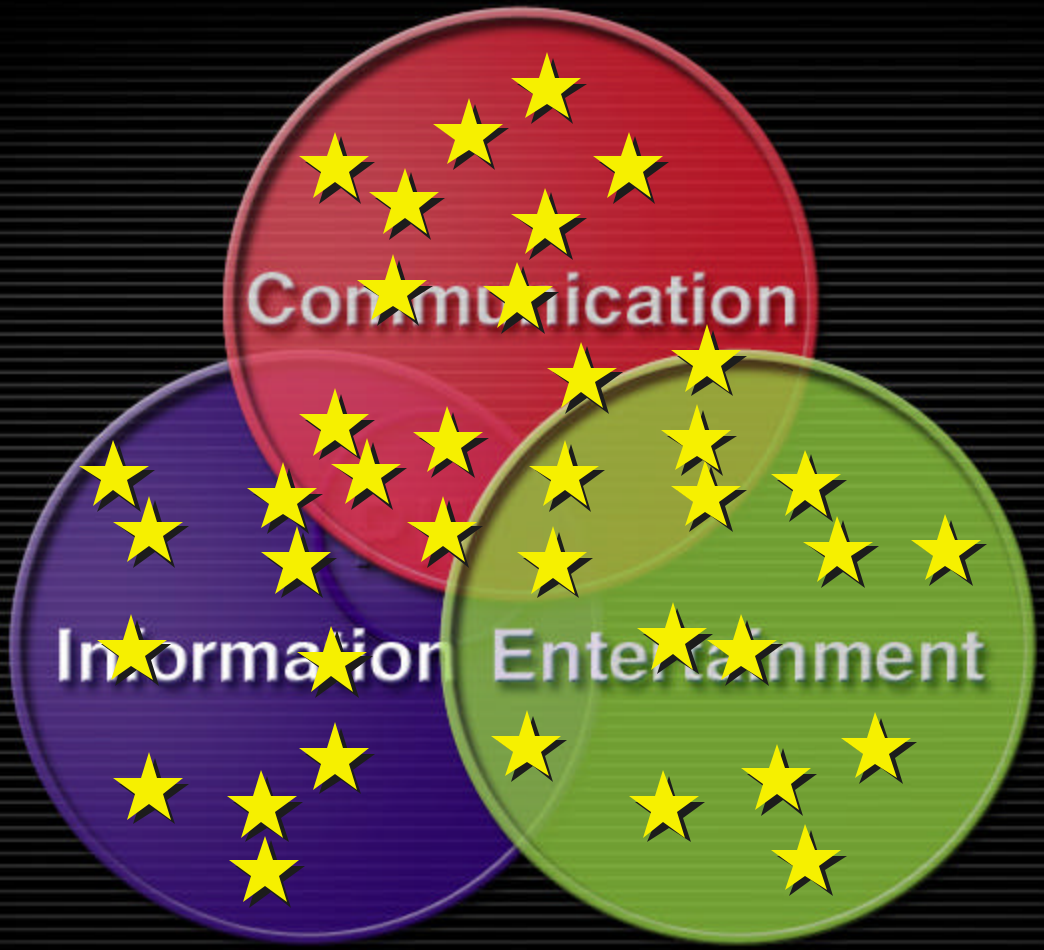

What the Customers Are Telling Us

- The market for mobile devices is more like clothing than like PCs

One size fits one

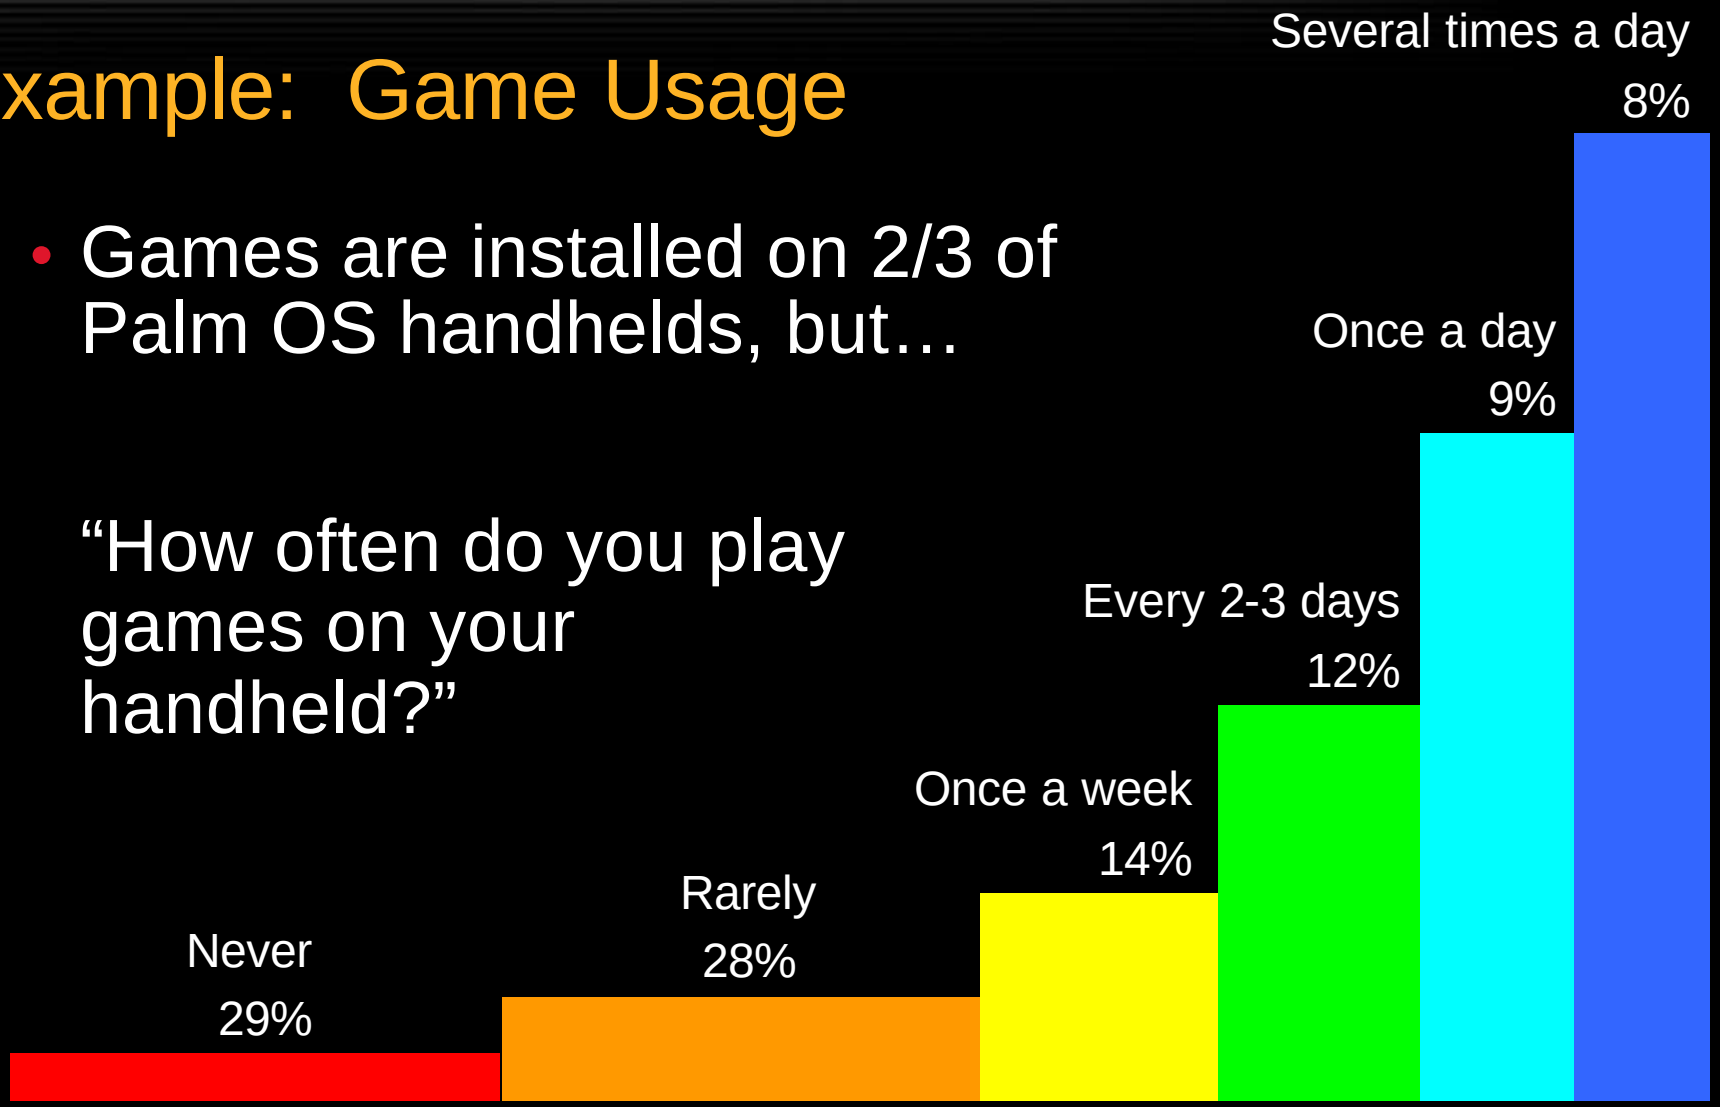

Inside the Heads of Users

Example: Game Usage

- Games are installed on 2/3 of Palm OS handhelds, but…

"How often do you play games on your handheld?"

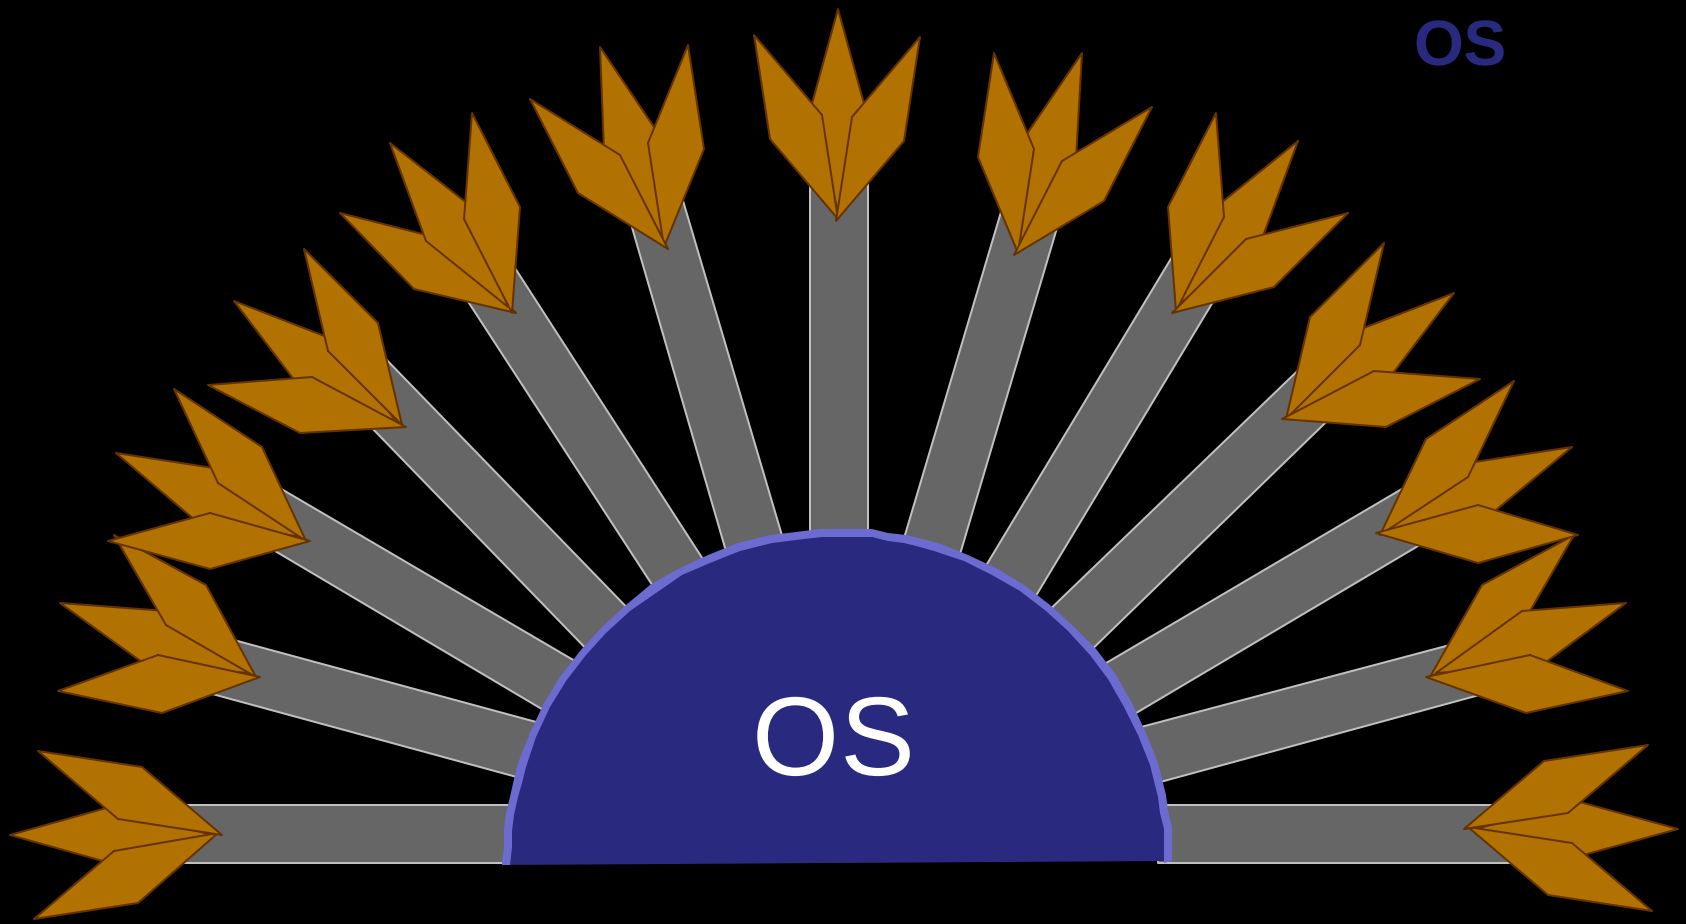

Among high-end Palm OS users

What's Coming

PalmSource Strategy

Apps
Hardware
OS

Summary

- The killer application is diversity
- Priorities
  - Improve our marketing
  - Create a great OS foundation for customization
  - Get more licensees aimed at more markets
  - Put your offerings in front of every Palm OS user
- Together, we'll make handhelds ubiquitous

PalmSource®

Conference and Expo

PalmSource®

Conference and Expo